The Havenscourt Story

Wine making is sometimes guided by a preconceived notion of a wine taste profile and how the nuances of a particular vintage should be expressed. Many fine wines are produced using this process, but at Havenscourt we take a different approach. We believe that wines are best enjoyed with meals and that the right pairings will enhance both the food and the wine. Therefore, our approach to wine making is to start with the plate and work back to the glass. In other words, we search for flavor profiles and wine styles that compliment popular foods and make meals a complete dining experience.

Welcome to Brooklyn

In the early 1900's, a winemakers great, great grandfather immigrated from Italy to New York. His family settled in a Brooklyn brownstone, not far from the docks where he worked as a ship's caulker by trade and a winemaker by heritage.

He taught his sons how to make and sell wine, and they eventually opened Scotto's Wine Cellars; it's still a Brooklyn neighborhood landmark after all these years.

The label represents our family's fresh start in America and an early chapter in our winemaking legacy.

The Regio Family

Meticulously crafted by our fifth-generation family winemaker, Regio commemorates the first years of our winemaking tradition when our great, great grandfather created homemade red wine to fill the glasses of his friends and family and make them feel like royals.

N.A.P.A. (it stands for FAMILY!)

We've been in the wine business a long time, so we enjoy reminiscing about some of our 'family firsts', especially this one, our first Napa Valley release. The N.A.P.A. portion of the wine's name represents the 5th generation of Scotto Vintners: my brothers and sisters Natalie, Anthony, Paul (me) and Anne. Michael's Red is named for our youngest brother, and Bianca's White is named for our youngest sister, who has recently joined us on our wine adventure.
